Our Reason Why

- Incarcerated individuals face significant health challenges including higher rates of physical and behavioral health issues.

- Improved care coordination and data exchange, where possible, can help improve individual outcomes, operations, evaluation, and strategic planning.

Supporting Care Coordination for Justice-Involved Individuals Through Funding and Integrated Data Infrastructure

Conduct utilization analyses and sequential intercept mapping with currently available data to identify opportunities for program expansion to address gaps and needs.

Develop data governance and client-level data sharing infrastructure to support care coordination, strategic planning, operations and evaluation across the sequential intercept model.

Current data availability restricts the ability to assess region-wide need and anticipate future demand. Identifying limitations such as these informs other data-related initiatives.

Longitudinal data across the care continuum will provide opportunities for complex assessments of utilization and need.

Impact

- The Recommendations ask the County to take an initial step towards data integration and improved management to support justice-involved individuals who receive support and services, across and among:
  - law enforcement
  - correctional agencies
  - community and health information exchanges
  - health plans
  - health and behavioral health providers
  - social service providers
  - health-care providers outside County payment or contract
  - other entities as relevant

- The Board Action recognizes that there are opportunities and challenges at the local, state and federal levels related to policy, funding, legal, compliance and regulation, and infrastructure. To address them, we must first identify what they are.
